

Rediscover Southland

Retrofitting the RETRO is an 18-month sculpture exhibit organized by LexArts in partnership with the City of Lexington and the National Endowment for the Arts.

LexArts commissioned site-specific public art to create physical connections in a suburban setting. This art-driven culture walk reflects neighborhood identity, helps redefine the suburban fabric, and in turn reinvigorates Southland as a destination neighborhood. The project coincides with pedestrian improvements, including installation of new sidewalks, along the popular retail thoroughfare.

Through an open call for art distributed to artists in Kentucky and contiguous states, eleven sculptures by eight artists were selected for the exhibition. The works were chosen by a committee of representatives from LexArts, Southland Assoc., Office of the Mayor and LFUCG Engineering. Four of the sculptures were purchased for permanent exhibition at the site and the remainder are available for purchase.

Major support for the project was provided by the City of Lexington, along with a National Endowment for the Arts ArtWorks grant, received and administered by LexArts.
