The City of Salem and Liars & Believers present

Yellow Bird Theatre Camp!!

Salem, MA— The City of Salem's Arts & Culture Program is pleased to announce a FREE three-day theatre camp for Salem youth in Salem's Old Town Hall & Derby Square in partnership with Cambridge-based experimental theatre ensemble, Liars & Believers.

In this fun and dynamic camp, participants will learn some of the basic skills needed to be a creative and expressive theatre artist. Each day, campers will: learn the fundamentals of improv, puppetry, and clowning; build their own puppets, and learn how to make them come alive; create their own clown character and even go home with a nose of their own! Campers will leave having discovered their most simple, honest, and silliest selves.

At the end of the three days, Liars and Believers will present their charming family-friendly show, Yellow Bird Chase FREE for the community. Following the performances, camp participants will join the professional cast to show off their new theater skills!!

Who is LAB:

Founded in 2009 and based in Cambridge, MA, Liars & Believers (LAB) creates original live shows with music, movement, masks, poetry, puppets, video, clown, live bands, aerialists, swords. Liars & Believers is committed to making art accessible in as many ways as possible. The LAB was one of the first theatres in greater Boston with the MCC's "UP Designation," recognized as a leader in accessibility in Massachusetts. In their own words, "We tell stories that explore what it means to be human in this world we share." "We recognize the historic inequities in our society, our industry, and our own company. We acknowledge the pain and injustices felt by BIPOC communities and we are committed to addressing them. We must use our voices to lift others. It is our responsibility to seek justice and combat the systemic racism that plagues our nation." Visit liarsandbelievers.com to learn more.
